LEGAL NOTICES.

NOT INDORSED BY FREE SILVER RE-PUBLICAN CLUB.

President Patterson Declares the Club Is Not an Incubator for Any Man's Boom-Field's Claims Not Even Presented.

"Dick" Field's independent citizen's boom for mayor of Kansas City has struck a snag. The boom was sprung last Monday night at a meeting of the ten members of the Civic Federation, and a platform of numerous planks embodying the tenets of half a dozen "reform" organizations, was outlined. Arrangements were made for the presentation of the boom at the meeting of the Free Silver Republican Club last night at labor headquarters.

It was the thought of the faithful ten that the indorsement of the free silver Re-publicans would be the signal for a wild scramble on the part of all other segregated "reform" organizations to climb into the Independent Citizens band wagon. I was, therefore, with a little flutter of an ticipation that four of the ten members o the federation presented themselves at the meeting of the Free Silver Club last nigh and waited for the match to be applied it. and waited for the match to be app the kindling wood which they had so care-fully laid, expecting an instantaneous flame that would blaze up and light the way to the city hall.

The free silver Republicans met. There The free silver Republicans met. There were only about len of them, too. The crime of "33 was painted in lurid colors; the gold octopus was trotted out by a fluent, ingenious and sincere speaker in the person of W. C. Holden, late of Galesburg, Ill.; the tentacles of this octopus were exhibited and the inger marks were seen on the throat of the great American people; rebellion and the confiscation of all public utilities were advocated; Mark Hanna was excortated and William Mckinley was denounced as a traitor; the arrival of prosperity was denied and the impending doom of the American republic was gloomily predicted.

But not a word about "Dick" Field, and his boom for mayor on an independent his boom for mayor on an independent citizens' ticket.
"I am not in favor of turning this club into an incubator for any man's boom."
said President Patterson, at the close of the meeting, "and for that reason the matter was not brought up, though I understand it was talked of before the meeting.
We are here to advance the cause of free silver and not to run anybody for mayor.
The club as individuals will support somebody for mayor, but as a club neither Judge Field not anybody clse will be indorsed."

And that is the end of the boom so far as doned.

The address of Mr. Holden was unusually earnest, though a stock presentation of the arguments for free silver. He was followed by Henry S. Julian, Alderman Morgan and Judge Henry N. Ess.

SHANNON ASSUMES CONTROL The Eminent Democratic Leader Places Himself in Charge of

City Committee. Joe Shannon, who stands for little that is clean in politics, was elected chalrman of the Democratic city central committee last evening at the meeting held at the Coates House. He will succeed Colonel Richard H. Gentry. Shannon was nominated for the position by Thomas J. Sechorn, and every member of the committee voted for him. It was an affair cut and dried before hand and the election was a purely fore hand and the election was a purely formal matter.

The committee met at 8 o'clock and went at once into executive session. P. E. Dwyer, of the Third ward, called the meeting to order, and read a note from Colonei Gentry stating his inability to be president. Mr. Dwyer was made temporary chairman, and the committee filled the places from the four new wards of the annexed territory by choosing the following committeemen: Eleventh ward-John Tobin, William Twelfth ward-H. H. Anderson, William Barnes.

Thirteenth ward-M. J. Maddick, E. O. Jeffries. Fourteenth ward-Robert Esson, John

Keenan.

The next business was the selection of a permanent chairman to fill the vacancy, and, on motion of Mr. Seehorn, Joe Shan-non was chosen, with every committeeman voting for him. There was half an hour of informal discussion of minor matters connected with the campaign and the com-mittee adjourned, subject to the call of Chairman Shannon.

The election of Shannon is taken as indicating a de-rmined effort on the part of the committee to force the nomination of Police Commissioner R. L. Gregory for mayor. Shannon is credited with being a strong advocate of Gregory, although some of the friends of Judge Gibson have been led to believe that Shannon was not unfriendly to him. This was the second meeting of the club since its organization. William Woolf is president and Joseph White secretary. The club has a membership of 150. This is the ward of James Pendergast for more than six years past. The Republicans are presay years past. The Republicans are preparing to make it hot for this hitherto invincible "boss of the Bottoms" in the election this spring and already they are casting about for a good Republican to make the race for the council. It is claimed that a mistake has been made heretofore in assuming that the ward is Democratic, for in the last election that ticket had very small majorales in some of the precincts. The meeting of last night was for the purpose of affording candidates. Among those present availing themselves of the opportunity were J. Scott Harrison, W. W. Harnden and S. E. Rumble, all of whom desire to be nominee for treasurer; George M. Randall, candidate for suditor. Everett Eiliott for city attorney and C. E. Burnham for police judge. ### What Republicans Should Do.

What Republicans Should Do.

To The Journal.

The Republicans of Kansas City should permit the designing opposition to select our ticket. While this has not been the custom of the party in local matters when we were successful, yet that don't count. Of course the opposition will put up as strong a ticket as possible. In making the nominations for us they will be absolutely loyal. At the election and during the campaign they will be loyal to the gang and depraved element in the city.

Of course, it should be the aim of every Republican to allow the gang to name the ticket by way of making it as easy as possible for the gang to get control of the city through their own tools for municipal depredations.

More than 199 joints run in violation of the state prohibitory law in Kansas City, Kas., every day. They are protected in this violation by the police, and it is understood that arrangements have been made whereby they receive the same protection for their slot machine business. # WORDS OF DIVINE WISDOM.

DR. MEYER'S DISCOURSE ON THE PURIFICATION OF JOSHUA.

mmense Audiences Attracted by the Celebrated London Divine-The Churches Filled to Their Capacity.

The First Congregational church was crowded to its utmost capacity yesterday afternoon when Dr. F. B. Meyer, the famous London divine, preached his third sermon in Kansas City. Interest in the meeting has grown until no edifice will contain the crowds that come to hear the preacher. The local ministers have pron preacher. The local ministers have promised Dr. Meyer that when he comes again he will preach in the auditorium of Kansus City's great convention hall.

This morning at 19 o'clock Dr. Meyer will meet the ministers in the Grand Avenue Methodist Episcopal church. A number of ministers from neighboring towns are in the sity to extend the meetings. the city to attend the meetings.

The meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock and this evening at 8 o'clock will be held in Calvary Baptist church, Ninth and Har rison streets, on account of the larger seating capacity of this church. Dr. Mey-er will leave for St. Louis at the close of er will leave for St. Louis at the close of the services to-night.

The sermon yesterday afternoon was perhaps the most characteristic of the four he has so far delivered. It bristled with apt and pithy illustrations. The full mellow voice that is often raised to an earnest shrillness and sinks to a startling bass in conversational moments, is one of the chief enjoyments of the discourse. The rich English accent adds uniqueness to the delivery.

A short song service led by Rev. Mr. J. M. Cromer preceded the sermon. After prayer by Rishon E. R. Hendrix, Dr. Meyer read without further preliminary the story of the purification of Joshua as high priest after the destruction of the temple. Here is a bit of exegesis with which the preacher begins:

Joshun's Purification.

'It was a time of reconstruction," said Dr. Meyer. "The city walls, the temple and the houses had been destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar. But just as the work of rebuilding had been completed, it was found that the priesthood had to be reconstructed. There came eras and epochs in communities when the Christian spirit must be revived, the Spirit of God be an must be revived, the Spirit of God be an incarnate conscience. I believe that this great meeting and the others that are being held will have a beneficial and uplifting effect upon the combined churches of this city for years to come.

"We do not believe in any separate order of priests as intermediaries. We be

"We do not believe in any separate order of priests as intermediaries. We believe that since Christ came there is no need for any man to stand between God and man. But we do believe there is a call for consecrated men to spread the light abroad. You are all priests unto God, but it may be that you have not lately exercised your priestly office. You don't rend your Bible except by snatches;
the altar of family prayer is broken down;
you have not presented yourselves a living sacrific; you are being called back by the voice of God, away from the things of time and sense, the things of this world."

Then comes a homely but pertinent illustration that is like a parable.

"I was calling on one of my people in Leicester. She was a washerwoman, and "I was calling on one of my people in Leicester. She was a washerwoman, and as I entered I complimented her on the whiteness of her washed clothes. She was pleased, and then we had a cup of tea. I sat with my back to the window and did not notice that a snow had fallen and covered the roofs with God's white mantle. I remarked that her clothes did not seem so white. 'No,' she replied: 'nothing can stand against God Almighty's white.' She had caught a glimpse of something whiter than what she made."

Here is another:

"Let us notice first that the angel declared Joshua's clothes were filthy. He thought they were clean. In my foggy London we change the color of our garments in the springtime. That which is in season in the winter is seen to be tawdry and cheap. In the dull morning the housemaid dusts the chairs and thinks she has got them pretty clean, but wait till the afternoon sun streams into the house and then the dust comes out. The flashlight of conscience shows us how fifthy our garments are. Let us put on Jesus Christ.

"I was amused last Sunday when a little Chicago lad remarked to a comrade as he saw me on the street that he knew I was all be, so that people will say as soon as they see us that we are Jesus Christ men."

Then he becomes earnest.

"I am reading a book about a preacher whose congregation piedged itself to ask; What would Jesus do?" in all its actions. The editor metamorphosed his paper; the prospective opera singer dedicated her voice to God; the business man changed his business methods. Oh, how I would like to start a society of that kind. It would be worth dying two or three years sooner to set a fair mitre upon the head of these dear ministers. Get the ministers right and the churches will be right and then the world will be right."

Faith Exemplified.

Faith Exemplified.

Here is one even more striking: "A correspondent sends me a crisp bank note. I answer my letters and the servant throws them in the fire. I miss the not and find it charred in the grate. It is all burned and only the number is left. A friend tells me to throw it away, that it is useless and not worth saving. But know that if I take to the bank the charre remnants I can get a new note. That's the way Christ does. He gives you a new life detected by the receiving teller of the First National bank, the other at the Union National.

Since the publication of the fact that they were in circulation here all of the banks have been very cautious and all $\mathbb{2}$ certificates are carefully inspected. The fact that they are coming to the surface so slowly lends the officials to believe they were only "floaters" from Omnha, where they were nearly a counter of the control of th way Christ does. He gives you a new life for the remnants.

"In London we are learning to use the very refuse of the streets as fuel to run an electric light plant. That's the way Christ does. He takes the very refuse of the devil and uses it as fuel to shed abroad in the world the light of His spirit."

Then a few anecdotes showing the effects of consecration upon the life of the minister, and after a brief but fervent prayer the service is ended without a benediction. Rev. Dr. Frederick B. Meyer occupied the puipit at the First Congregational church, corner of Eleventh and McGee streets, last night. In addition to all seats being occupied, every available space in which a person could stand or wedge a chair was taken. Dr. Meyer read as his text several verses of the thirty-third chapter of Isaiah.

If Patrolmen Halloran and M. J. Ken-nesiy are members of the police force in 1900 they will be entitled to three days off duty duty during the month of February. The duty during the month of February. The extra day will be carried forward from this month, and should, with interest, amount to nearly a week's vacation by the time the shades of the nineteenth century are falling into darkness. But the officers will be satisfied if they get the extra day. By an order of the police board, made several years ago, each patrolman is entitled to two days off duty during each month—or nights—as the case may be. In making up the schedule of day and nights off for the present month. Ed Hickman, secretary to Chief Hayes, forsot the schoolhook jingle: Thirty days hath September, April, June and November; others thirty-one except the second month Which hath but twenty-eight infine, till leap year Which hath but twenty-eight Infine, till leap year gives it twenty-nice.

Either this, or Mr. Hickman failed to recall that leap year will not make its rounds again until 1906. Secretary Hickman made out the schedule Tuesday and hung it up in the rotunda at Central station, giving Patrolmen Halloran and Kennedy February 25 and 29 to themselves. February 25 this year fails on the 1st day of March, or would if it were allowed to fall at all. But it mustremain suspended for two years, and until 1906 rolls around Halloran and Kennedy will be shy on vacations. Lieutenant Moran discovered the mistake last night and called the attention of the patrolmen to it. They expect to see Secretary Hickman about it to-day.

May Encamp at Lake Contrary.

The cold wave yesterday, following close on the heels of the freezing temperature of Tuesday morning, has frozen up the lakes and streams in the vicinity of the city with the best lee of the season, Yesterday afternoon the ice at Washington park measured four and one-half inches, and by to-day it is expected to measure six inches. The Ice on the lake has frozen as smooth as a pane of glass. Last night there were several hundred skaters enjoying the sport at the park. The whole surface of the lake is in the best of condition for skating. The lake will be illuminated at nights with electric lights, while the ice lasts. The bath house has been fitted up as a lunchroom, and every convenience has been provided for the comfort of the skaters. has been provided for the comfort of the skaters.

Unless warm weather interferes, the gentlemen's championship race, which could not be decided during the skating carnival, held during the last freeze, will be contested for next Saturday afternoon. The programme of races will be held under the auspices of the Kansas City Ladies' Boat Club.

Rev. Mr. Kloss' Daughter Dead.

Roxanna, the 6-year-old daughter of Rev. Mr. C. L. Kloss, of the Southwest tabernacle, died yesterday from the effects of an abscess of the ear. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock from the family home, 1840 Jefferson street. The services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Henry Hopkins. The remains will be placed temporarily in a vault and later buried in St. Louis.

Rev. Mr. Kloss recently resigned his pastorate and accepted a call to a church in Webster Grove, a suburb of St. Louis. He had arranged to preach his farewell sermon next Sunday and a reception was planned for to-morrow night. On account of the death in the pastor's family, however, both events have been postponed for one week.

Other Deaths and Funerals. The funeral services of Leon Bauer will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of his son-in-law, Joseph Bailey, 145 Tracy avenue. Burial will be in Elmwood cemetery.

Lela May Parish, aged 27, died yesterday at her home, 2355. Belleview avenue, of an abscess of the pelvis.

FOR A NEW ELECTRIC LINE. ART IN THE SCHOOL ROOMS.

ATHENAEUM MEMBERS PLAN TO EL-EVATE THE PUPILS' TASTES.

The Nucleus for a Traveling Art Li-

The art department of the Athenaeum will soon introduce a traveling art library in the public schools of the city. An open session of the Athenaeum was held yesterday afternoon in the old Y. M. C. A. building, to which all the ward school principals and Superintendent J. M. Greenwood were invited. Nearly all the principals were present. Members of the Athenaeum read papers on the practical value of art in the schoolrooms, and how it has been of the Central high school, read a paper, in which she described the schoolrooms in the city as dreary and uninviting. She strongly advocated that drawings, copies of the old masters, bits of statuary and the like be placed in the schoolrooms for the development of the pupils' artistic tastes. Superintendent Greenwood spoke at length on the subject and expressed himself as being heartily in favor of the plan suggested by the Athenaeum for the introduction of art into the schoolrooms. He said the board of education was innancially unable to spend money in this direction but he said he was certain the board would give its support to the plan originated by the members of the club. Mrs. Laura E. Scammon, president of the club, appointed Miss Florence Carpenter, Miss Gano and Mrs. W. H. Clarke a committee to take charge of the details of the plan to establish a traveling art library has. of the Central high school, read a paper

A nucleus for a traveling art library has already been secured by the club. This includes a number of art folios and photographs of the works of the masters. "The principals have taken hold of the matter with such enthusiasm that we are sure the plan will prove a success," said Miss Carpenter. "All of the ladies of the club will contribute what works of art they can to the committee in charge of the library and I am sure there are a large number of women outside of the club who will also contribute to the cause. As soon as we have a library of sufficient size, then we will divide it among the schools. Our idea at present is to have the teachers devote, say, an hour each week to exhibiting the art folios and giving little lectures on them to the pupils. As soon as one school them to the pupils. As soon as one school has finished a folio it will be sent to another school. In that way the pupils will have their artistic tastes developed."

Mrs Laura Crosson Divorced From Wm. Crosson-Reichnecker Di-

worce Case Dismissed.

Mrs. Laura Crosson, of Kansas City, Kas., was granted a decree of divorce from William Crosson yesterday by Judge Alden of the Wyandotte district court. The trial of this case consumed nearly two hours, during which time a number of witnesses were examined. The plaintiff succeeded in proving to the satisfaction of the court that she was entitled to a legal separation.

When the case of Newton V. Reichnecker against Hattle Reichnecker was called in the same court the attorneys for the plaintiff announced that Mr. and Mrs. Reichnecker had perfected a reconciliation and deiff announced that Mr. and Mrs. Reichnecker had perfected a reconciliation and desired to have the case dismissed. It was announced that they are now living happily together. Judge Alden dismissed the case and taxed the costs against Mr. Reichnecker. This divorce suit has attracted a great deal of attention owing to the fact that the contracting parties are very well known. They were mere children when married. The reconciliation was perfected at one of Major Cole's revival meetings.

A resolution was passed calling for an election February 23. It is proposed to issue bonds to the amount of £5,000. The school board sets out its reasons for calling the election in the following resolutions:

"Whereas, The schools of this district are now so crowded that half day sessions only are given in some of the rooms, and the best work cannot be done in any of the grades, and the usual increase for the ensuing year will largely add to the number now in attendance; therefore be it

"Resolved, That in the judgment of the board, it is necessary to increase the annual rate of taxation for the purpose of huying a site, erecting a school building and furnishing the same; also for the purpose of repairing the Young school, and that for this purpose there be submitted to the qualified voters of the Independence school district at a special election, to be held for that purpose on Wednesday, the 23rd day of Feburary, 1898, the proposition to borrow $30,000 and to issue bonds for the payment thereof, payable in not less than live years nor more than twenty years, said bonds to bear interest not exceeding the rate of 5 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, the money being borrowed for the purpose of purchasing a site and erecting thereon a central school building and furnishing the same, also for the purpose of repairing the Young school, and that the cierk be ordered to give notice of said election, as provided by law."

Oscar Mindrup Loses His Suit.

Oscar Mindrup Loses His Suit.

The suit of Oscar Mindrup against J. W. Powell for the balance on a check was decided yesterday in Justice Millard's court for the defendant. This was the second trial of the case, which was a peculiar one. Isaac Bryant presented a check to Oscar Windrup, proprietor of the Model grocery house, signed by Powell. The check when it reached Mindrup's hands called for $20. Powell resisted payment, claiming that a check was given Bryant for $2, instead of $20, and alleging that some one raised the check. The check itself showed bungling work. Bryant was not at the trial to testify. Mr. Mindrup is out $18 and some groceries.

Oak Grove Will Remain Dry. Oak Grove Will Remain Dry.

B. G. Doke & Co., who had an application on file with the county court for a saloon license for the town of Oak Grove, were refused a license yesterday. Mr. Doke wanted to withdraw his application but the court never alows an applicant to withdraw a petition of this kind and entered a record of refusal. This will cause Mr. Doke the trouble of getting up a new application should he persist in making a fight. Many prominent citizens of Oak Grove protested against granting a license and the court sustained the sentiment against saloons. It is probable the decision was final.
